

Title: Assistant Professor

Section: International: Full-Time Academic (Tenure Track)

Location: Mita, Minato-ku, Tokyo, JAPAN

JEL Classifications:

C01—Econometrics

Keywords: Empirical Studies

The Department invites applications for an Assistant Professor who focuses on empirical studies in the following fields: Methodology, and Heterodox Approaches (B in JEL code), Mathematical and Quantitative Methods (C), Microeconomics (D), Macroeconomics and Monetary Economics (E), International Economics (F), Financial Economics (G), Public Economics (H), Health, Education, and Welfare (I), Labor and Demographic Economics (J), Law and Economics (K), Industrial Organization (L), Business Administration and Business Economics • Marketing • Accounting • Personnel Economics (M), Economic Development, Innovation, Technological Change, and Growth (O), and Urban, Rural, Regional, Real Estate, and Transportation Economics (R).

Keio University is a private, coeducational university founded in 1858. The Faculty of Business & Commerce was created to study and research commerce. Students explore the world of modern industry from four core areas of study: Management, Accounting, Commerce, and Economy & Industry. The Graduate School of Business & Commerce offers students the opportunity to conduct research into modern industry through four core areas of study: Management, Accounting, Commerce, and Economy & Industry. In the Graduate School, the curriculum is divided into two-year Master's and three-year Doctoral courses. Majors available in both Master's and Doctoral courses are "Commerce" and "Management & Accounting," subdivided into the 10 fields in the Faculty of Business & Commerce. The Economics field invites new applications for a tenure track assistant professor.

The Faculty is required to teach at least two classes per week each semester (90 minutes each lecture and 15 lectures for each class. Two semesters in each year.).

Salary Range: depending on the individual and according to the university wage scheme

Requirements

1. Ph.D. of economics and relevant fields, one expected to be completed by August 2016, or its equivalent, in countries other than Japan.
2. Bachelor degree in countries other than Japan.
3. English communication/teaching skill

The position will start at April 1, 2016 or September 1, 2016 depending on the individual and availability.

Required Materials

1. CV including research list
2. Research Proposal at our university
3. Job market paper
4. Recommendations of two supervisors or their equivalent
5. Degree certificates if applicable
6. Graduate school transcripts
7. Contact information
8. Reason of application to the university

Application deadline: 11/30/2015

(Application Instructions)

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until 11/30/2015 or the positions are filled. We will contact suitably qualified applicants by Skype in December 2015. We will invite qualified applicants to a final interview in Japan in January 2016. All applicants should visit <https://www.aeaweb.org/joe/cand.php> to upload all required materials by 11/30/2015. Candidates should request that two letters of reference be submitted on their behalf directly to the web site.

https://www.aeaweb.org/joe/listing.php?JOE_ID=2015-02_111454117

All questions should be sent to Keio Business and Commerce Search Committee at econ_job@fbc.keio.ac.jp.